

Peacocks' Christmas collection takes value fashion to its highest level

Inspired by this season's hottest catwalk trends, Peacocks is offering customers the chance to spree instead of spend and still be dressed in all the must-have trends this Christmas which include a military move on, heroin chic, rebel, black on black and bejeweled.

Peacocks' new-shape tuxedo blazer £25

Following the success of the military blazer this autumn, Peacocks has moved on the look with a new-shape tuxedo blazer, £25 and a velvet military blazer with ribbon and silver button details £25. Style with PVC leggings, roused mini skirts or pleat detail tuxedo style shirt for a sleek rebel look.

White faux leather high button blouson £20

Update this season's bomber jacket without breaking the bank with either a black and white tweed style bomber £25, or a faux white leather blouson style jacket £25. These jackets look great with almost anything that's thrown at them and also embrace the texture and second skin must-have trends of the season.

St Tropez dress £18

With full length couture dresses swishing their way down the catwalks, Peacocks have included a beautiful full length satin scarf print dress, £18 in their collection. If prints aren't for you the range also features a stunning black full length dress with brooch and rouched detail, £18.

One shoulder sequin dress £16

If there's one time of year when you cannot do without a little black dress it's got to be the festive season. To help you in your party dress pursuit Peacocks has a sexy one shoulder style that looks great with the must-have cinch waist belt £16, a bejeweled neckline LBD £16, and a bowed one shoulder style with drop waist detail £16.
